

ROWING • RACING • ATHLETICS • BOXING • FOOTBALL

Washington Played Tie With Maryland Varsity

Teams Evenly Matched, But Game Was Not Particularly Interesting—Visitors Made Two Long Runs.

George Washington played a tie of 0 to 0 with the University of Maryland at Van Ness Park yesterday afternoon. Although the game was close, it was not particularly interesting. Neither team distinguished itself by brilliant work and there were many raw spots. Washington was lacking in animation and spirit, while the Marylanders were in poor physical condition and were constantly being laid up. The frequent calls for time-out caused the game to be delayed until long after 6 o'clock, and the twinkling stars were as plentiful as the chorus girls' benefit before the game was over.

Maryland Slugged.

Maryland was frequently accused of slugging, and there were times when visitors did not appear to be all that was desirable in the matter of ladylike action on the gridiron. In the second half a Maryland player interfered with the catch of a punt and there were loud cries of foul, but Referee Jack Gass did not see the offense and refused to give the fifteen yards that was demanded by the roosters for the home team.

On the whole the teams were evenly matched. The backs managed to get through the opposing lines for only small gains until the last few minutes of play, when Hala broke loose for thirty yards for Maryland, and a little later Stone got through for twenty-five yards in a general mix-up. These were the longest runs of the game, but they were possible largely on account of the darkness.

Stevenson Strong.

Stevenson made a splendid impression for George Washington. He ran well with the ball and tackled hard. Stevenson handled the team in excellent fashion, and was a constant factor on the defense. His quarterback runs did not produce the results expected, but that was largely because his teammates seemed to be in a trance when it came to forming interference to protect him. He made a quarterback kick that netted a substantial gain and the ball was recovered.

Maryland Backs Good.

Stone, Hala, and Watts, the Maryland backs, each put up a good game, and kept working all the time. They had a hard line to go against. Watts was probably the best in his work at fullback, hurdling well and keeping his feet with a surprising number of opponents clinging to his shoulders. Stone, at left half, and Brent, at left end, were fearless tacklers, and stopped many of the promising Washington runs. Hala was strong on the attack, and he and Mason were a tower of strength on the defense.

In the first half Maryland kicked, and the ball was down on the 25-yard line. A try at three points was attempted, but it failed, and it was followed by a double pass to Stevenson. That able athlete fumbled, but recovered in time to make nine yards. Maryland's right side appeared weak, but the team took a brace and held for downs.

J. R. Keene's Israelite Wins the South Field

Gamara, at Good Odds, Captures the Cut-chogue Handicap—Two Favorites Show in Front.

JAMAICA RACE TRACK, NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—The South Field Handicap, at a mile and a sixteenth, for all ages, was won today by James R. Keene's three-year-old Israelite.

The Cutchogue Handicap, for two-year-olds, at six furlongs, was won by R. T. Wilson, Jr.'s Gamara, at 12 to 1. Two favorites won. Phillips rode two winners. Summaries:

First race—Six furlongs. Monet, 4 to 1, won; New York, 7 to 1, second; A. J. Dandell, 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 1/2.

Second race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

Third race—Six furlongs. G. J. Dandell, 3 to 1, third. Time, 1:13 1/2.

Fourth race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

Fifth race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

Sixth race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

Seventh race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

Eighth race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

Ninth race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

Tenth race—One mile and sixteenth. Lord Badge, even, won; Topie, 11 to 5, second; Homestead, 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

W. S. Harban Wins GOLF TOURNAMENT

Defeats F. O. Horstmann in Columbia Tourney.

COMMISSIONER WEST VICTOR

Captured Handicap Match With Good Net Score of Sixty-Eight. Poor Playing.

All the golf tournaments of the fall season in Washington have been won by the "under dog," and the Columbia Golf Club tourney, which closed yesterday at Brightwood, was no exception.

Dr. Walter S. Harban, of Columbia, defeated F. O. Horstmann, of Chevy Chase, in the final for the Club Cup, by 1 up.

The consolation cup was won by H. T. Harding, of Columbia, who beat Dr. L. W. Glazebrook, of Chevy Chase, by 3 up and 3 to play.

Dr. E. Dunforth, of Columbia, defeated T. R. Newbold, of Chevy Chase, by 1 up in 19 holes, in the third sixteen.

Commissioner Wins. District Commissioner H. L. West, of Columbia, won first prize for lowest net score in the handicap match, with 78. He was followed by Dr. Harban, with 80, and Dr. Horstmann, with 82.

W. C. Carnegie, of St. Andrews, who had next best score of 79 in the handicap, performed a feat that was never before, and probably never will again be, equalled on the Columbia course. He made the third hole—bogie 4—in two strokes. The distance between the tee and the hole is 28 yards. Mr. Carnegie's drive was 150 yards. In approaching, his ball landed 12 inches from the hole, fell almost dead, and rolled in.

The principal match of the day, that between Dr. W. S. Harban and Dr. Horstmann, was exciting because of its closeness, but there its good points ended. The play was the worst ever seen in a championship match in Washington. Mr. Horstmann could not drive, and put any too well, and Dr. Harban practically could not put at all. The two opposite faults of the contestants that followed the play interlarded.

Many Bad Drives. Mr. Horstmann made eight bad drives and was plainly disgusted with his loss of form. Each time the Chevy Chase man would miss his drive Dr. Harban would respond with a poor put, and the two would compliment each other on their poor work.

The first hole was halved in four, but Dr. Harban forced ahead at the second, winning it, four to six. The third was halved, but Dr. Horstmann won the fourth, five to three. Dr. Harban made four strokes, and Dr. Harban six, making it even up. Mr. Horstmann missed his drive on the second hole, and drove into the trees on the third, but extricated himself nicely. Mr. Horstmann drove Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Georgetown Defeated Holy Cross With Ease

Washington Team Irresistible on Defense and Offense—Mahone Star for Winners by General Work and Sensational Run.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 29.—In the first football game ever played between the two institutions Georgetown triumphed over Holy Cross this afternoon at Columbia Park by 17 to 4.

Two touchdowns and a goal in the first half and a touchdown and a goal in the second represented the Blue and Gray's points, while Holy Cross was obliged to be content with a goal from the field in the second half, which Reid scored from the 15-yard line after a Holy Cross player had recovered a fumble.

Game Interesting.

Although Holy Cross was outclassed in nearly every respect, the game never lagged, but was interesting from beginning to end. A crowd of about five thousand, mostly supporters of either of the teams, assembled for the contest. A delegation of about two hundred Georgetown undergraduates made the trip up from Washington to cheer their favorites. They established a cheering section in the east stand and supported their team royally. In the second half, when victory seemed assured, the visitors sang to their hearts' content and cheered the coaches and the players.

Holy Cross had few students at the game, so their team was not as well looked after from the roosters' point of view as that of their opponents. Five hundred Pennsylvania men turned out to watch the return of the Pennsylvania-Harvard game, and whenever the Quakers made ground against the Crimson the park resounded with the cheers of the happy Quaker students.

Good All Around.

An irresistible attack, against which the live men of Holy Cross were helpless, together with a defense which kept her rivals from making any extended gains through the line, gave Georgetown a victory in the most coveted game on her schedule. The whole team played well together. There was little star work done by any members of the Blue and Gray aggregation, but whatever special credit should be given is due Captain Mahoney. In carrying the ball he was one of the most reliable men on the team, while his long run for a touchdown in the second half was the most spectacular work done by any player.

The first hole was halved in four, but Dr. Harban forced ahead at the second, winning it, four to six. The third was halved, but Dr. Horstmann won the fourth, five to three. Dr. Harban made four strokes, and Dr. Harban six, making it even up. Mr. Horstmann missed his drive on the second hole, and drove into the trees on the third, but extricated himself nicely. Mr. Horstmann drove Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it. Dr. Harban missed an easy putt, but allowed his opponent to halve it.

ty run of sixty yards for the third and last touchdown. Carroll kicked goal. In the last two minutes of play Reid tried for a goal from the 45-yard line, but it fell short, and after it had been run back the game was called with the ball on Holy Cross' 29-yard line.

The Line-Up.

Georgetown. Position. Holy Cross. Fitzpatrick.....L. E.....Conners Carroll.....L. T.....C. O'Donnell Orme.....L. G.....J. McCarthy Given.....Center.....Callahan Neill.....R. G.....E. O'Donnell

Maloney.....R. T.....O'Neill E. Monahan.....Naughton C. McCarthy.....R. E.....Campbell McGuffigan.....Q. B.....T. Larkin B. Larkin.....L. B.....R. Reid Hart.....R. H. B. Carrigan Ford Martell.....E. B.....McManus

Touchdowns—Maloney, 2. Goals from touchdowns—Maloney, 1; Carroll, 1. Goal from field—Reid, 1. Referee—C. T. McCarthy. Germantown. Umpire—Fred Stehle, Pennsylvania. Timer and linesman—Gennett, Pennsylvania. Assistant linesmen—Boyle and Monahan. Time of halves—25 minutes. Score—Georgetown, 17; Holy Cross, 4.

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."

Back in '97 when Bill Hassamer was on the Toledo team he was struck over the ear the first time up in a game with Newcastle. As Bill had swung on the ball the Toledo players came to the conclusion that "Boosing William" had been to bed the night previous. After Hassamer recovered his equilibrium Bob Gilks remarked that the opposing pitcher's inshoot must have been very deceptive. "Deceptive" is no name for it, "Boosing" is. "When I was in the army I hit at one and the other hit me in the head."